

Issue: 1, Vol 1, August 2015

What a union brings

Special price! Only 1 €!

The right to have rights

Opportunities & risks in the Eurozone

Content:

What a union brings p. 2

Eurozone:

opportunities and risks p. 4

The right to have rights p. 6

ImpACT team:

CEO: Elina; Editor: Iva; Designer: Kasia;

Law Consultant: Mia

What a union brings

During the past years people's way of living has changed completely. Inventions in areas of technology, science, medicine and many others have improved lives worldwide. But it is the 9th May 1950 that influenced and still continues to influence the lives of Europe's citizens. Every year this day is celebrated in 28 countries as the Creation of the European Union.

The impact that joining the EU has brought in our lives can be recognized in the many opportunities it offers. Today a citizen of every member state can easily visit, explore, study, work or live anywhere in the EU. The result of this freedom of movement is people become "united in their diversity". Entirely different cultures, traditions, knowledge and points of view are being exchanged; the FU countries learn more about each other and become one.

Another benefit of being a part of the EU is the positive effect it has on people's life quality. The many different funds support people with disabilities, business ideas and potential as well as the country's needs renovation and building. Farmers, beekeepers, NGOs, research institutes and many more receiving subsidies, highways and bridges are being built, educational centers are being renovated. The standards of living are improving rapidly.

What a union brings

Nowadays the young people are granted an endless number of chances. The first of many, high school have graduates opportunity to study abroad and develop their potential in top ranked universities and to gain a better understanding of how the world works. Secondly, recognition degrees makes it easier for university students to find jobs and internships in order to gather more experience and develop professional skills. What is more, there are support systems information cénters for young people that offer a variety of projects and student exchanges to many countries. With all those chances they become more independent, find what they want to do in their lives and who they really are.

Like many things in life benefits bring more benefits. The EU patronizes freedom of trading goods and services so the countries' economy blossoms. single market strategy facilitates trading and overall transportation of products between the member states. Statistics show that since the start of this strategy capital is growing and GDP increases.

Joining the European Union has caused a series of positive changes in people's lives and in the future it will certainly continue to do so. United in diversity we exchange knowledge, experience and skills; we become more open-minded about the world around us and we, all together, work our way to make it better.

'I never thought we'd last as long as the Eurovision Song Contest.'

Eurozone: opportunities and risks

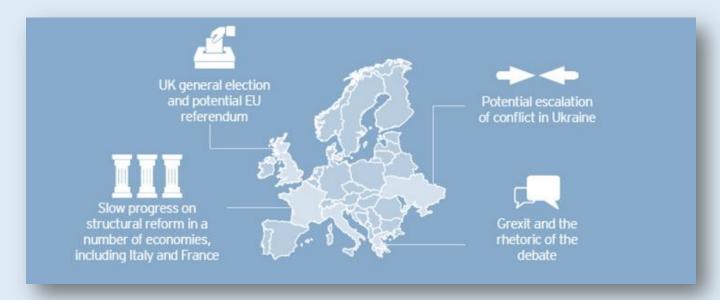

There a number of macroeconomic drivers aiding the Eurozone recovery in 2015 and driving GDP growth. But within financial services, not everyone will feel the benefits.

The Eurozone economic recovery gives more grounds for optimism than at any time since the global financial crisis.

But there are clouds on the horizon.

One of the strongest drivers to the short-term recovery is the QE program.

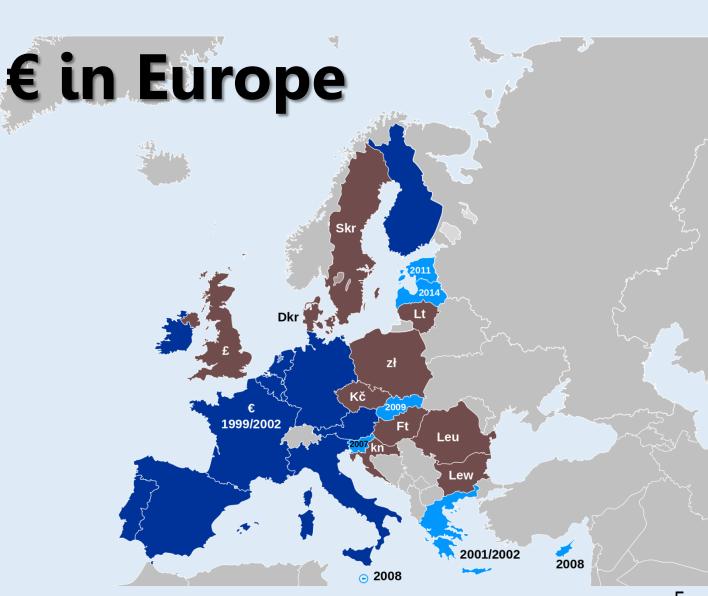

Eurozone: opportunities and risks

Looking across financial services, who benefits and who doesn't?

The right to have rights Imp

be order to accepted the in European Union country must fulfill many conditions, one of the most important ones are defined by the European rights Human convention. The European Union's 28 member states are trusted to respect and value the rights of others.

Every human being has the right to develop normally. A childhood, education and a family are an inseparable part of every person's life. Childhood is the time when you start noticing the events that happen around you and make thoughts about them.

You begin to understand the reasons behind these events and build your own opinions. The bases of building a character, making your decisions and choices lay in the first stages of a life. Home person's where parents siblings pass on cultural traditions. customs and believes a should inherit person from its nation. The right free, unbiased education is also one of the biggest influences in a person's development. Those needs shape how we see and understand the world, which makes it of vital importance.

The right to have rights Imp

The right of a home, food, water, freedom of speech, thought, religion and movement must be provided to all citizens of the EU. Often in reality promises not always lead to actions. During the past decades the flow of refugees has increased and more people want to become a part of the European Union. Citizens of African countries like Syria and Libya abandon their motherlands to escape wars, terrorism or difficulties economical and reach the Utopian the world of Therefore countries that board the Mediterranean Sea have major migrant issues they can't handle.

Italy and Greece have centers where the refugees receive an approval to enter into the Unfortunately, country. camps these overpopulated and are far from fulfilling any human criteria. rights' conditions there are beyond bad, they offer neither freedom privacy nor basic hygiene regulations. These are some of iust examples of basic rights that are being violated.

Due to the human having rights been established people are entitled to certain privileges which actually should be in our nature as free beings living in the world of boundaries. the end everything comes down to respecting and letting each other to live our lives with the right to survive in fine conditions.